- Students must be inside classroom by 8:30.

School Uniforms

All children must be in school uniform at all times. Children not in uniform will be sent to the office, and in some cases, will wait in the office until the parent can bring the correct uniform item.

Unless you registered in the last 3 weeks, all families should have the proper uniform tops for their children.

As the weather cools, a couple uniform reminders.

Q: Can my child wear leggings under his/her uniform bottoms?

A: You bet. Any plain color is allowed.

Q: Can my child wear a long sleeve undershirt under his/her uniform shirt?

A: Absolutely. Any plain color is allowed.

Q: Can my child wear a non-uniform jacket or sweater on top of his/her uniform shirt?

A: Only outdoors. When indoors, only uniform jackets/sweaters are allowed.

Q: Can my child wear cargo pants? Or Capri pants? Or corduroy pants?

A: No.

Interventions vs. Enrichment Classes

Interventions are academic supports provided during school to children we have identified as needing this support. Children are identified for qualifying for intervention based on MAP/Istation scores. A parent cannot “opt out” of intervention for his/her child if he/she qualifies based on these scores. Additionally, sometimes a teacher recommends a child for intervention, who would not have otherwise qualified for this free service based on test scores. A parent may “opt out” of these interventions in this case.

If your child did not qualify for intervention, you may request that he/she receive this service. Such a decision is made by the child’s classroom teacher.

Children that do not receive intervention go to Enrichment classes. These are classes we have to keep children occupied and engaged while the classroom teachers provide intervention in reading and math to our neediest kids. If a teacher has no children needing intervention, then she does not need any enrichment classes for her students.

Bonus Library Hours

Did you know the library is open on Wednesdays during lunch for children that did not get a chance to visit that week? Thank you to our library committee for making this possible!!!

The Balloons Are Coming!

On Friday, 5 October, we will have our annual visit by a hot air balloon pilot. Actually this year, we will have TWO balloons on site!!! This is one of our most beloved special events of the year!!! I am so excited!

Details of the arrival time will come out next week. However, be aware there will be special drop off and parking procedures on that day.

The drop-off lane will be closed that day.

First Grade

Maestra Alisa Cooper de Uribe nmis.cooperdeuribe@gmail.com

Maestra Ana Arvizu nmis.arvizu@gmail.com

This week marks the beginning of our second IB Unit of Inquiry. Our transdisciplinary theme is How We Organize Ourselves, with lines of inquiry that focus on how we classify plants and animals, how changes in the environment may relate to human activity, and the adaptations of animals according to their environments. The central idea of this unit is "Natural laws impact methods of human organization," and we will use our background knowledge of the needs and rules that we explored in our previous unit to learn more about patterns that govern nature.

Over the next two weeks, we will investigate the distinguishing characteristics of plants and animals. This week, we will begin with plants. With a variety of books as a point of reference, we will read fiction and non-fiction texts about plants in both English and Spanish to enrich our vocabularies and understand what different parts of the plant do. We will start listening and/or dancing to songs like "Cada semilla," and "Watermelon." We'll also revisit edible plant parts with José Luis Orozco's "Plátanos y manzanas." If you or someone close to you has a garden, this week and next would be an excellent time for you to look closely at the variety of plants and to find similarities and differences among them. Our Spanish vocabulary words are: raíz, tallo, hoja, flor, fruta, semilla. Our English spelling words are: his, dig, pat, sun, put, have.

In math, we will work on number models and number stories earlier in the week and then take our Unit 2 assessment. By the end of the week, we will start with Unit 3, which focuses on visual patterns, number patterns, and counting. We will practice making patterns with a stencil, and then move on to even and odd numbers and how they can be identified. If you are looking for a website that can help reinforce first grade math skills in English, you might want to take a look at Adapted Mind. And you can also find additional activities from our current unit here, as well as at this Everyday Mathematics page.

Dear Families,

It is now Fall!

September Equinox 2018 will be at 7:54 PM on Saturday, September 22! Hello Balloons, autumn leaves, baking time and pumpkin spice! Hope you are as happy about the new season as many of us are.

Many things are happening in FIFTH GRADE. We are getting ready to finalize our unit this week. Your child will be building their casita, church or pueblo building for their designated pueblos. The students will be designing replicas of their pueblo buildings this coming week. Feel free to send in an extra old shirt for them to wear while they are working and an old shoe box or a piece of recycled cardboard to build their replica on. Students will also be creating time lines representing all that was studied in the unit.

In Math we will be moving into Unit 3 with Geometry Explorations. We will be learning about our angles, triangles and the geometric template for the next couple of weeks. IXL practice can be done at home using the homework sheet I sent last week. These activities will change according to the skills they have practiced. They may do IXL practice 30 minutes per night for now, Monday-Thursday.

In Language Arts we will be practicing our letter writing skills and persuasive writing to influence our local legislators. If there is a topic or problem in this world that your child is concerned with, please send me a short email with what that is if you can. I would like to have additional resources available for their writing activity for their topic if possible.

Reminders:

- Please send in a recycled shoe box or piece of cardboard 18x18 or a bit smaller by Tuesday.

Library updates:

Our book review contest is back!

Our book review contest is underway. Who will win? Here's how it works: your child reads a book and writes a review in English or Spanish. They turn the book reviews in to the library either on their library day or by placing them in the folders on the wall behind the library door. Each well written review earns points for your child's clan. This year, we'll have prizes for the best review each trimester. The prize is...you guessed it...a book! Get started now with the review forms that are attached to the newsletter this week.

Join our reading challenge to earn books for your kids and the library

Our first Reach for the Stars Reading Challenge is underway. Your child should have a packet containing a reading log and pledge sheet to keep track of their reading minutes and sponsors. This is a two-week, voluntary read-a-thon style program sponsored by Usborne Books & More where students and teachers can earn a lot of books! Please see the packet or the Families of NMIS Facebook page for more information.

Fill in your family contribution logs by volunteering with us
You need volunteer hours, we need volunteers. Let's connect! Our volunteers help during class visits and beyond. Email caram99@gmail.com or nmkatecunningham@gmail.com for information. A reminder that volunteers and visitors should not bring snacks to the library at any time, including snacks with nuts.
